Donna -

As long as we have a tree within the terminal planter island, I am comfortable removing one tree for an art piece. (see attached drawing)

Thank you!

Hi Andrea,

I have attached a portion of the landscape plan marked up showing that one of the planter boxes is now serving as an "art piece". The client is not going to put a tree there. They have already poured concrete. We do show another planter box still located at the end of the row for the parking stall. We wanted to run this by you and make sure it was ok.

Please call me when you get a chance to discuss. You can also email me back your comments concerning this or if your fine with it an email response is fine as well.

Thank you,

As long as we have a tree in this location, I am fine with the other tree being removed for an art piece.
